

REAL-TIME INVENTORY VISIBILITY

INFORMED DECISIONS ARE MADE WHEN INVENTORY DATA IS AVAILABLE TO ALL

TRENDAGRAM

77%

Retailers rank inventory planning and visibility as a leading omnichannel capability ⁽¹⁾

75%

Retailers have inaccurate inventory levels in stores ⁽²⁾

53%

Retailers agree they have too many out of stocks in stores ⁽²⁾

Amount of global shoppers that have tried to purchase a product that was out-of-stock: ⁽³⁾

81% in-store
65% online

73%

Retailers' supply chains need to increase flexibility by holding more work-in-process inventory, rather than finished goods ⁽²⁾

82%

Retailers' supply chains need to source/replenish closer to the point of demand

53%

Retailers are up to date with checking inventory at other stores, but only 43% are up to date with ordering inventory at other stores ⁽⁴⁾

56%

Retailers rate enterprise-wide inventory visibility as very valuable, while only 27% have implemented and are satisfied ⁽⁵⁾

32%

Fast moving consumer goods and general merchandise retailers plan to replace their existing inventory visibility technologies soon ⁽⁵⁾

Sources: 1 – EKN Research, "A Step-by-Step Approach to Improving Omni-Channel Customer Profitability;" 2 – Retail Systems Research (RSR), "Retail Supply Chain Execution: New Requirements To Meet New Demand;" 3 - GT Nexus, "The Global Out-of-Stock Crisis;" 4 – IHL Group, "2016 Store Systems Study;" 5 – RSR, "Omni-Channel 2015: Taking Time, Money, Commitment And Technology"

6 JANUARY 2016 RIS NEWS.COM

SPONSORED BY:

GT NEXUS
an Infor company